

PROPOSED ABERDEENSHIRE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN 2020 RESPONSE FORM

As part of the production of the Local Development Plan, a 'Main Issues Report' was published in January 2019. The responses from these consultations have helped to inform the content of the Proposed Local Development Plan ("the Proposed Plan").

The Aberdeenshire Local Development Plan will direct decision-making on land-use planning issues and planning applications in Aberdeenshire for the 10-year period from 2021 to 2031. The Proposed Plan was agreed by Aberdeenshire Council in March 2020 as the settled view of the Council. However, the Proposed Plan will be subjected to an independent examination and is now open for public comment.

This is your opportunity to tell us if anything should be changed in the Proposed Plan, and why.

When writing a response to the Proposed Plan it is important to specifically state the modification(s) that you would wish to see to the Plan.

This is the only remaining opportunity to comment on the Proposed Plan. The reasons for any requested changes will be analysed and reported to Scottish Ministers. They will then appoint a person known as a Reporter to conduct a public examination of the Proposed Plan, focusing particularly on any unresolved issues and the changes sought.

Ministers expect representations (or responses) to be concise (no more than 2000 words) and accompanied by limited supporting documents. It is important to ensure that all of the information that you wish to be considered is submitted during this consultation period as there is no further opportunity to provide information, unless specifically asked.

Please email comments to ldp@aberdeenshire.gov.uk or send this form to reach us by 31 July 2020*.

We recommend that you keep a copy of your representation for your own records.

**UPDATE 16 June 2020: Consultation period was extended from 17 July 2020 for a further two-week period.*

Modification that you wish to see (please make specific reference to the section of the Proposed Plan you wish to see modified if possible, for example Section 9, paragraph E1.1):

Settlement Statements, Appendix 7D, Garioch (Inverurie and Port Elphinstone, p. 555) Road capacity is listed as one of the areas of concern for both Inverurie and Port Elphinstone. I wish to see modifications to the text which claims that development "within the Crichton area ... will help address traffic congestion issues through the provision of a new grade separated interchange on the A96" because a new grade separated interchange on the A96 will be insufficient to accommodate the extra traffic caused by the number of new houses in the Crichton development and its distance from the centres of Port Elphinstone and Inverurie. The Settlement Statement lacks a strong commitment to promote walking, cycling and public transport within the communities of Port Elphinstone and Inverurie, which must form a crucial part of plans to reduce vehicular transport.

Reason for change:

The Aberdeenshire Local Development Plan needs to be particularly robustly worded with respect to Inverurie and Port Elphinstone's settlement statement because, as the plan recognises, the Scottish Government has undertaken to dual the A96 between Inverness and Aberdeen. A stronger wording of the statement will assist Aberdeenshire Council's officers to protect existing public access routes including public rights of way. These routes are part of the solution to improve connectivity and to reduce the reliance on vehicular transport. It is necessary for developers to incorporate footbridges and underpasses for pedestrians and cyclists as integral parts of their plans. Such essential infrastructure is not mentioned.

The wording of the Settlement Statement for Inverurie and Port Elphinstone does not display sufficient commitment to the statement on p. 50 (at P2.6) of the Development Plan:

Existing and potential public access routes (including core paths and other routes, such as public rights of way) should be protected and new developments must include appropriate opportunities for informal recreation and promote walking or cycling as a means of transport.

In line with this wording, it is necessary to strengthen the settlement statement for Inverurie and Port Elphinstone so that developers must be made to include appropriate means of connectivity within Port Elphinstone and from the new Crichton development. The incorporation of the Old Kemnay Road offers an example of an historic route and a public right of way that should be incorporated into an interconnected network of paths and cycle routes to enable pedestrians to gain access to public transport and to enable residents to travel to work by bicycle.

The statement for Inverurie and Port Elphinstone mentions the expansion of routes for pedestrians and cyclists to neighbouring communities (Kintore, Kemnay and Old Meldrum) as an aspiration. This wording does not take into account the advice in Appendix 8 for successful placemaking, where it is stated that there is a need (not an aspiration) “to create well connected places that promote intermodal shifts and active travel and are easy to move around” (p. 875).

Appendix 8 also states that development for placemaking must ensure “walkable neighbourhoods within 400-800m distance of local amenities”. The settlement statement does not indicate how this objective is to be achieved in Port Elphinstone and parts of Inverurie. The part of the statement is particularly weak for Port Elphinstone because Inverurie is recognised as having a town centre, but not Port Elphinstone, in spite of the school and shops at its centre.
