PROPOSED ABERDEENSHIRE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN 2020 RESPONSE FORM

As part of the production of the Local Development Plan, a 'Main Issues Report' was published in January 2019. The responses from these consultations have helped to inform the content of the Proposed Local Development Plan ("the Proposed Plan").

The Aberdeenshire Local Development Plan will direct decision-making on land-use planning issues and planning applications in Aberdeenshire for the 10-year period from 2021 to 2031. The Proposed Plan was agreed by Aberdeenshire Council in March 2020 as the settled view of the Council. However, the Proposed Plan will be subjected to an independent examination and is now open for public comment.

This is your opportunity to tell us if anything should be changed in the Proposed Plan, and why.

When writing a response to the Proposed Plan it is important to specifically state the modification(s) that you would wish to see to the Plan.

This is the only remaining opportunity to comment on the Proposed Plan. The reasons for any requested changes will be analysed and reported to Scottish Ministers. They will then appoint a person known as a Reporter to conduct a public examination of the Proposed Plan, focusing particularly on any unresolved issues and the changes sought.

Ministers expect representations (or responses) to be concise (no more than 2000 words) and accompanied by limited supporting documents. It is important to ensure that all of the information that you wish to be considered is submitted during this consultation period as there is no further opportunity to provide information, unless specifically asked.

Please email comments to ldp@aberdeenshire.gov.uk or send this form to reach us by 31 July 2020*.

We recommend that you keep a copy of your representation for your own records.

UPDATE 16 June 2020: Consultation period was extended from 17 July 2020 for a further two-week period.*

YOUR COMMENTS

Please provide us with your comments below. We will summarise comments and in our analysis will consider every point that is made. Once we have done this we will write back to you with Aberdeenshire Council's views on the submissions made. We will publish your name as the author of the comment, but will not make your address public.

Modification that you wish to see (please make specific reference to the section of the Proposed Plan you wish to see modified if possible, for example Section 9, paragraph E1.1):

Modifications to the proposed LDP's approach to tackling climate change and in particular Section 13 on Climate Change and Policy C2 – Renewable Energy

Reason for change:

Fred. Olsen Renewables Ltd endorse all points raised in the response to the proposed LDP made by Scottish Renewables. In particular, we wish to highlight the following key areas for change:

Changes within the Scottish Planning System, Climate Change & Climate Emergency

- The proposed LDP has been published at a time when the Scottish planning system is undergoing reform brought about by the Planning (Scotland) Act 2019, which received Royal Assent in July 2019. The new Act will introduce a fourth National Planning Framework (NPF) which will form future LDP. Furthermore, the NPF4 will require meeting targets relating to reduction of greenhouse gas emissions within the context of the Climate Change (Emissions Reduction Targets) (Scotland) Act 2019 and should be reflected in changes to the proposed LDP.
- Recent publications by the RTPI have stated that climate change should be at the forefront of future planning policy. The proposed LDP states that climate change is a key focus which has guided the production of the LDP but it arguably does not go far enough to facilitate achieving the ambitious goals set out in national energy policy and legislation for renewable energy production and net zero.
- The proposed LDP will guide the decision making process on applications within Aberdeenshire between 2021 and 2031. Whilst it makes no reference to the Scottish Government's declared 'climate emergency' nor its Net Zero greenhouse gas emissions target by 2045 we have serious concerns that the proposed LDP is not aligned with future national carbon and climate change targets.
- We note that policies related to climate change appear to be very far down the list on the agenda of the plan.
- As noted above, the proposed LDP does not encompass recently published national energy policy and climate change legislation, including the Climate Change (Emissions Reduction Targets) (Scotland) Act 2019. This document set out ambitious targets, including:
 - The establishment of 2045 as a target date for reaching net zero greenhouse gas emissions.

- An interim target of a 90% reduction in emissions (compared to 1990 levels) by 2040; and
- A further interim target of a 70% reduction in emissions (compared to 1990 levels) by 2030.
- We would like to see the proposed LDP consider these targets along with consideration of Scotland's Energy Strategy (2017) and Local Energy Systems (2018).

Wind Farm Proposals

- We have strong reservations with reliance on the Landscape Capacity Study for onshore wind farms published in 2014 for making future decisions on the deployment of onshore wind farms. This document outdates the 2014 SPP and we consider continuing its use would not make the draft LDP futureproof and relevant within the 2021 – 2031 timescale proposed.
- We strongly support Scottish Renewables previous representations on the unacceptability of the use of Landscape Capacity Studies as a development management tool.
- The landscape capacity study makes reference to large typology turbines being above 80 m and very large turbines being over 125 m. We disagree with the comment that the document still remains relevant for the larger turbines now being proposed. Onshore wind turbine technology has moved on significantly since this study was published and wind turbines in excess of 170 m are common in applications and are vital in helping achieve the targets outlined in the section above.
- Moreover, the plan does not contain a strategy for approving renewable energy developments thus making it more difficult to reach the targets set out in national energy and climate change policy and legislation.
